Paris, 20th June 2005

To all EFES members on behalf of:

Marc MATHIEU
EFES

A model plan for Financial Participation in the European Union

Monsieur Marc MATHIEU,

This is an invitation to attend the INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE organized by the International Association for Financial Participation (IAFP) in Brussels on 28/29 of September 2005.

In case you need to be reminded what the IAFP is, you may find attached a short activity description of the Association.

You may have heard that our Association have the ambitious project to design a European Model Plan for Financial Participation, to be offered to European organisations involved in that practice, across borders or no.
We got the financial support of the EU Commission to carry this project.

Your interest and expertise in Financial Participation is well known and we believe that attending this Conference should be interest to you, and would give you an opportunity to discuss, amend, or improve the proposals the IAFP is drafting, before presenting them to the E.U. Commission for approval, after the Conference.

The project includes 2 Drafting Seminars, a gathering of some 30 experts, and an International Conference for some 130 invited guests.

The 2 seminars already took place in Brussels. We registered some 28 committed participants from 12 countries, representing the following categories: Human Resources, Service Providers, Trade Unions, Academics, and IAFP Member Associations.

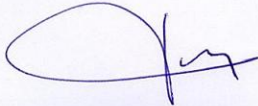

Working groups produced their list of opinions and suggestions, and a synthesis of what has been discussed is to be issued in July.

The participants will receive the draft paper before the Conference and will be expected to participate knowledgeably.

All Travel expenses are reimbursed.
Please find attached all information regarding the organisation of the Conference.

Participation is by invitation only and space is limited to 130 places.
Could you kindly let me know if you are available, and if you can consider this invitation, by sending back the pre-registration form duly completed. In case, as I hope, your answer is yes, then, in July, we will send you a formal invitation and the necessary documents.

Yours sincerely,

Jean-Michel CONTENT
Secretary General

Association Internationale
pour la Participation Financière

About us

The International Association for Financial Participation (IAFP) is a non-profit association which promotes wider employee financial participation and share ownership in an employer's business through support and information sharing among national associations, employers and interested academics.

The association has active members in Europe, North America, Asia and Australia, and invites inquiries from interested parties worldwide.

Founded by a generous endowment in 1987 by French Banker, Rémy Schlumberger, with support from organization in France, the UK and the US, IAFP is an association of Members sharing the same goals and objectives:

- Promote networking and sharing of best practices among members country associations and employers worldwide through its Exclusive Directory of Financial Participation which provides also information and data from different countries on national laws and regulations of share programs, statistical data, case studies, news and trends.
- Assist in the organization of new country associations to promote share program sponsorship across borders.
- Encourage the development of national laws to the sponsorship of share programs.

In order to accomplish these goals IAFP maintains an information center at its headquarters and exchanges information among its national association members. It sponsors conference and seminars in support of share programs and makes available its experts for consultation with national and international organizations, seeking information on share programs. IAFP offers financial support for major academic research studies on topics which relates to the benefits of share participation programs.

Regular membership meetings are held to further the above objectives of the association, which is managed by an Executive Committee supported by a President, a Secretary General and a staff located in Paris.
